

Juan de Fuca Men's Triples League

- Purpose: To provide an opportunity for teams of Juan de Fuca men to compete in scheduled league competition. All men, including novices are encouraged to participate.
- Format: A league consisting of 3-man teams will play triples games of 14 ends each.
- Teams: Captains (not necessarily skips) will draft players from a list of registered men.
- Duration: For 10 teams; a ten-week season is required. If there is interest, a second season may be organized using the same format.
- Day of play: Tuesday is the least busy day at Juan de Fuca.
- Draft: Interested players will register by sign-up on-line or on a sign-up sheet in the clubhouse. Captains, drawn from this list will meet once to participate in a player draft. Captains will draw for order of selection and proceed to make choices from the list of registered players until there are no more players to draw from. Teams may require more than three players to accommodate absences. Bye team members or men from the spares list may be used to fill vacancies. Once formed, teams (or the captain) are free to schedule players for matches
- Weekly Scoring: First two ends are worth only one point
Any tie will result in split points awarded.
3 points awarded for winning the game,
1 point awarded for most ends won in each game, and
1 point awarded for lowest ratio among all teams. (Points for divided by points against: closest to .999)
- Costs: $1.00 per player per day collected on game days
- Payouts: All money collected will go back into prizes
